CAPTAIN BEAVERS

Captain Harrison Beavers, the past Professor of Military Science and Tactics at Washington-Lee High School, will be remembered by "his boys" for his great kindliness and careful guidance in their work. He taught them to use their common sense and to accept responsibilities. For this reason they learned from him, respecting his judgment and knowledge. Everyone will miss his presence.

The first annual concert of the band was presented in early March and was well received by the students.

Since its beginning, the band has grown, both in size and musical ability, into a large well-rounded musical organization.

The Student Government of Washington-Lee is an association which endeavors to carry out the wishes of the student body through a council and forum elected directly by the students. The council is composed of three officers, the class presidents of the tenth through the twelfth grades, and the June Senior class Vice-President. The forum consists of the homeroom presidents from the tenth through the twelfth grades.

The main project of the Student Government for this year has been the placing of a plaque for the men and women in service from Washington-Lee. A memorial shelf has been established in the library for those who have given their lives in service. Special books have been selected, each having a book plate giving the name, rank, and date of death of each service man.

The cooperation of the student body throughout the year has made the success of the Student Government possible.

The Washington-Lee Chapter of the National Honor Society was inaugurated in 1937 under the sponsorship of Miss Sally Loving. Its purpose is to give recognition to the students who have excelled along the lines of the four cardinal principles; namely, Character, Leadership, Scholarship and Service, and to encourage among the students of Washington-Lee the attainment of these principles. The emblem of the National Honor Society is the keystone and flaming torch, symbolizing the high ideals for which the society stands.

Elos

LITERARY SOCIETY

Elos, the Washington-Lee chapter of the Virginia Literary Society, was first organized and sponsored in 1939 by Miss Lee McNeil and Mr. Lewter. Since that time Miss Chappell and Mr. Campbell have sponsored the club in an effort to offer to the students an outlet for their literary talents.

Growing each year, the society continues to present full and well planned programs at the weekly meetings. Highlights of the year's activities were the annual debate held at George Washington University, the Elos assemblies presenting guest speakers and donating books to the library, the Elos play, and the trip to the National Theatre. One of the more important features of the year was the presentation to the school of the first bound copy of "Crossed Sabres," in an effort to preserve a record of the school's history.

The members of the Elos Society hope that the organization will become even more active and will continue to function as an asset to the school.

Hi-Y

The Washington-Lee Hi-Y Club completes this its eleventh year as one of the prominent service clubs of this school. It has co-operated with other school activities and has taken the lead in many of them. The Hi-Y sponsored a paper drive at the beginning of the year, took over the usual job of checking late buses and participated in the clean-up campaign. A hilarious assembly, which lived up to its record of past years, was acclaimed in the school as the best of its kind. The Hi-Y also held various social activities and in other ways achieved its purpose, "To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character."

Tri-Y

Tri-Y completed its second successful year in 1944-45, following its purpose "To create and maintain throughout the high school and community a higher standard of Christian character."

During the year Tri-Y participated as a junior member in the activities of the Y.W.C.A. The club sent two representatives to the fall and spring "Lodge" where they took part in a program of recreation and instruction. Tri-Y, along with other clubs of the Washington area, sponsored many social activities at the Y, such as semi-monthly Co-Ed Nights, a Mother-Daughter Tea, a Dad-Daughter Banquet, a Christmas Dance, and club suppers.

As part of their service to the school and community, members of the club helped at the steam tables in the cafeteria, collected food and clothing for the poor, and made scrap-books for children in the hospitals.

The Distributors Club, under the able leadership of Miss Gwathmey, is celebrating its second birthday. Although young in years, it represents the proving ground for career students—those who wish to enrich their high school study and experience by gainful employment. The club programs highlight business and its opportunities, as well as community problems and the part the student may play in helping to solve them. As a National, State and Local organization, the Distributors Club has as its chief purpose the development of leadership in the students studying Retail Training.

Throughout the Nation for the past seven years, students have been receiving practical work in retail stores and other business firms under the new program of Distributive Education established by the George-Deene Act of Congress. The entire course of study is based on principles and practices that have been tested and proved. Through teaching the practical way by "doing," the course is making a definite contribution to the future of young business men and women.

This year's basketball season turned out to be fairly successful in spite of the serious handicap offered by the previous year's graduation. Lack of experience and size of the boys were deciding factors in several of the contests. However, at no time were the Little Generals outclassed or outfought. This is evident in the record of the season's scores and in the achievement of second place in the Northern District Class A League.

The track team came through with a very successful record this year, though the team was made up mainly of new material. It made a good start by placing second in the Charlottesville meet and went on from there to even greater glory. It had an advantage over former teams in having a completely new track for the staging of its various meets. It was the team of 1945 that set a precedent in staging the Washington-Lee Memorial Day meet on May 19.

Girls' Hockey Team

First row: A. Roberts, J. Call, Captain; B. A. Phillips, A. Abbott, A. Bruin.

Second row: L. Woodyard, G. Shearer, D. Mower, M. Shirer, S. Johnston, R. M. Holliday, B. Pinkstaff, R. Binsted, L. Garber, B. Gammell, Miss Shaw, Coach.

Third row: M. Hennessey, M. Stribling, J. Brodie, M. E. McCabe, K. Clees, R. Reeves, R. Strole.

The Girls' Hockey Team, coached by Miss Shaw, had a most successful year. The girls, eager to bring their team to victory, practiced daily—learning new plays and techniques. We hope that next year's team will carry on with the same enthusiasm, energy, and fine spirit.

Girls' Basketball Team

First row: M. Rawlinson, N. Kneen, R. Miller, Co-captain; K. Clees, Co-captain; L. Garber, D. Reymer.
 Second row: Miss Shaw, Coach; J. Rice, Manager; M. J. Haycraft, V. Engle, B. A. Phillips, J. Call, H. Yost, Manager.
 Third row: C. Baber, G. Shearer, A. Bruin, D. Hellman, M. Wallace.

In its second year under the commendable coaching of Miss Elsie Shaw, the girls' varsity has brought to Washington-Lee the best record ever made in girls' athletics.

Co-captains, Ruth Miller and Kay Clees, together with Louise Garber, shot many balls right through the basket to total some very sizable scores. Holding down the opponent's scores and passing the balls right back to their own forwards, were Dottie Reymer, Margie Wallace, and Dolly Hellman.

Always on hand and ready to take over at a moment's notice, the eleven other hardworking team mates immeasurably contributed to a successful year.

The first girls' team from Washington-Lee ever to be invited to the Star Tournament, the enthusiastically completed their schedule with as brilliant a finish as was their start.

SHOESTRING CASE BREAKS

The F.B.I. disclosed last night that the Black-market shoestring ring has been broken up. After many months of under cover investigation F.B.I. director, Toby "Never Say" Dye and his super sleuths finally rounded up the gang. The ringleader, "Honest John" Lofin and his two associates Jere "the Crutch" Williams and "Kunning Kenny" Banta were apprehended entering a 9th Street dive.

The clue which led to the capture of the ring was the discovery of "Honest John's" trombone case crammed full of counterfeit shoestrings. "Honest John" broke down and admitted he has been disguising himself as a musician for the past 22 years. He stuffs his case full of shoestrings and enters public places as a trombone player. Then he quickly sets up his stand, puts out a sign saying, "I am blind" and peddles his wares to the unsuspecting people.

His accomplice, "The Crutch," whose crutch was really hollow, acted as a go-between to keep "Honest John" supplied with his wares. "Kunning Kenny" spent his time running the machinery which put the metal bands around the tips of the laces.

Under Dye's "third degree, fifty minutes, ten seconds" "Kunning Kenny" broke down and disclosed the location of their warehouse, which was an abandoned, run-down school house at 13th and Stafford Streets in Arlington, Virginia.

The crooks are being held under $10,000 bail. Their case comes up next week.

When police chief Mary Stribling was asked how she felt upon capturing public enemies numbers 67, 5, and 43, she looked pensive for a moment, and then said gently, "What's the matter? You crazy or somethin'?"

The chief was ably assisted by Radway Gibbs who held her coat while she fearlessly entered the warehouse to capture the criminals. Mr. Gibbs says he has never seen anything like it—the way she captured those criminals—not her coat.

Butchers Graduate

The graduates from the Thompson Technical Butchery Institute were handed their diplomas yesterday. The institute, whose seal is a herring rampant on a chopping block under crossed meat saws, has been operating at full capacity turning out butchers ever since meat has been back in the market.

The most noted grad was Kenneth Hallam, M.M., who has been proclaimed as having the easiest thumb in the business. Kenneth undoubtedly has the ability and equipment to hack is way to the top.

Martin Admitted to Bar

The doors swing in, and the doors swing out, ut on the inside now is that noted psychoanalytic authority, William "My Friends Call e Bill" Martin.

This marks the end of a long hard struggle through which he never wavered or staggered om his goal.

Ever since his graduation Martin has been agrossed in his work. He has stood before the ur before, but his record is two acquittals and ir suspended sentence. On his last test he was limited to the bar as a full member.

The usually jovial Mr. Martin, sober as he ard the news, quickly reverted to his normal ate. He hopes someday to reach the bench.

Dehydrated Water Perfected

Professor Richard Kenley, noted American scientist and our only Nobel prize winner, has been spending his time during the past years perfecting and testing what may prove to be his greatest discovery.

The dehydrated water pills are blue in color, and are made by taking distilled water, freezing it, pulverizing it, and then putting it in molds, which are then heated until 99.9% of the moisture is removed. The professor has taken the pills himself and to quote the learned man's words, "I haven't touched a drop of water in two years." One can detect the genuine value of the pills in the robust color of the professor's face. The pills will go into mass production as soon as the distilling plant is bonded. Each bottle of pills equals 4/5 quart of water.

Bell Inside the Capitol

Today for the first time Mrs. Bell entered the inside of the Capitol Theatre. Although having been close to the doors a good many days of her life, this is the first time she has passed through these hallowed portals.

A box seat for her has been permanently reserved by the management with a handy spotlight and opera glasses to enable her to get a better view of the show. She says it is much nicer to sit inside and look around during intermission than to stand outside in the rain.

LALOR MAKES IT

West Point, New York—The buildings of old West Point looked down today upon an impressive scene. The day was perfect—a clear, blue sky overhead and a soft June breeze blowing off the Hudson. Amid the strains of "Army Blue" and with cadet corps standing respectfully at attention, the Academy's oldest and most ardent student stepped up to receive his diploma. For Cadet Lalor this was a proud day. After fifteen years he was at last receiving the diploma for which he had so devotedly worked.

Before entering the Point, Lalor served a hitch in the Salvation Army, in which he was a staff sergeant. Then he took the competitive exam to enter the Point. Said he, "I wanted to do it the hard way."

The various professors were sorry to see him go. Said the professor of philosophy, "He was so nice; he never snored once during my talks." The science professor was quoted as saying, "He was such a tall boy, we could always count on him to assemble the larger apparatus." The head coach added, "He got out to the team faster than any other water boy I've known." All the faculty will sadly miss his smiling face.

When Cadet Lalor was asked how he felt on this day of days he replied, "I have enjoyed every minute of my fifteen years here. The Navy may have its points, but the Army life is the life for me. Hurrah for the Army!"

ELECTORAL VOTE 530—1

The climax of a whirlwind campaign that swept the country as it has never been swept before came today as the country hailed its new president, Art Brickman Brown.

When asked for a statement, president-elect Brown modestly stated, "Oh, it wasn't anything, really; I owe it all to my mother."

At the party convention in Green Valley, U.S.A., he was publicly acclaimed the party's standard bearer. Since then he has crossed and recrossed the country in his campaign passing out cigars and kissing babies.

Candidate Brown spent election day at his home in Arlington trying to learn the art of horse-shoe pitching. He plans to get a complete rest at Warm Mattress Hotel in Georgia before taking up the rigors of office.

Miss America Crowned

Amid the warm sunshine, the gently waving palms, and the staring crowds, W-L's favorite daughter, Kitty Kirk, was today crowned Miss America. The nation has been on edge for days awaiting the judges' decision. Head judges Maxwell Hoover and Lee Bonney, beauty connoisseurs of the nation, handed down their decision amid wild cheering from the assembled crowd.

Miss Kirk, a vivacious brunette, is employed by the Hangover Model Agency of Ballston, Virginia.

Rocket to Moon Departs

It was officially revealed today by the renowned scientist's press agent that Dr. Richard Cigledy has departed on his pioneering trip to the moon.

Just a word of description about the rocket's construction. It was built in complete secrecy by H. Dick Boat and Shipyard Co. The outer skin is a heat-treated, flush riveted, hot water tank. The inside is padded with pillows which he plans to sell as souvenirs on return. All the comforts of home are inside, including raincoats and galoshes in case the weather turns inclement during his stay.

His trip is sponsored as an advertising venture by the Wm. Saunders Corp. Through means of a spray attachment on the rocket, the Dr. will paint letters 25 miles high on the moon. The self-illuminated billboard will read, "Bill's pink pills cure chills."

The learned Dr. has secured building permits for several lemonade stands and a Hot Shoppe to accommodate future travelers.

WOLVES CORNER

The following work is quoted from the learned work of Ignatius Q. Foxeon on "Types of Women." 1. The clinging vine — noted for tendency to hang on escort as if he were a tower of strength, has a southern accent, and strong perfume. 2. Outdoor type—these brawny maidens are to be handled with kid gloves. Their playful pats on the back may cripple the innocent wolf for a lifetime, maybe longer even. Fine type to take on hikes where the pack may be too heavy for one man to carry, but deadly dangerous in a dark corner.

Attention all wolves! Get the latest booklet out from our National Headquarters. To get your copy merely tear the wig off any blonde, brunette, or redhead and mail it in, along with $2.00 to cover the cost of handling and mailing and we will send you free of any additional cost the handy little pamphlet entitled "What to do when your car runs out of gas on a date" or "25 nifty answers to the question—Why Should I Let You Kiss Me Now?" Also a genuine hand toolled Algerian sand grained kumquatskin wallet. This wallet is not guaranteed for years, not for life, not forever—matter of fact it's not guaranteed. This offer is open for a limited time only; mail early.

Also available is the newly designed wolves' whistle to protect your throat from the cold air encountered on windy street corners.

Desert Rats Washed Up

In wide sweeping line up changes, the Yuma Arizona Desert Rats announced, that Claude Smith has been converted from bench warmer to blanket spreader. Whenever a player is hurt, he is the one who spreads out the blanket for him to lie on.

Smith has really been outstanding this year, having played in all but 10 games this season. Claude has been with the squad all 12 years of his stay at Y-U. His eventual graduation will be a great loss to the squad.

CINDERS FLY AT G. U.

Murray Lee proved his worth in the "G" Club meet held at Gorgeous U.'s huge track in Metropolitan Lee Heights. Starting out as a poor 5th in a 4 man field, he managed to run down his opponents and was leading by several lengths of his kiddie car after the fourth lap. He easily took the race, finishing the measured mile in 10:02.65 minutes.

Prominent among other events were the high hurdles in which Walter McCarthy set a new record. Previously the record for setting up the hurdles was held by Bill Banic. "Mac" cut the time in half by carrying 2 hurdles at a time. Brawn and brain, such as his, should not go unheralded.

Podunk Triumphs Again

It was announced today by the Almagamated Press that Bill Ward, mentor of the Podunk University basketball quintet has been heralded coach of the year.

Having led his team to 3 wins, 1 tie (blue and white polka dots), and 20 losses, through the use of the fast cracking offense and loading-zone defense, Ward became notable. However, his team has been handicapped during practice by a shortage of bushel baskets which they have been using as goals, the regular ones being torn down during a slight altercation over a score.

Podunk is looking toward an even better season next year as the school board has appropriated money to purchase practice basketballs. These will do away with the balloons they were forced to use this season.

OVER THE BACK FENCE

The great news is out at last—Mrs. O. K. Bakingbun, nee Lois Anderson, of Arlington, Virginia, has been voted the model wife and mother of 1964. Mrs. Bakingbun is very modest about her victory, giving the credit for her present success to practical experience gained while caring for her baby brother during High School days.

Bill Baker has finally gathered sufficient funds to start his "Lone Ranger School for Junior Commandos." We wish him all the luck in his new undertaking.

The famous Metropolitan star, Mlle. Lucie Timberlake, has consented to have her portrait painted by the up and coming artist, Shirley Singer. Miss Singer has previously been noted for her still life paintings and this will be her first attempt at something alive (?).

The latest rage of Ninth Avenue is the new hairdresser from Paris, Messrs. Paul Allen. His new hair styles send one "right out of this world."

This is the end of the line for today . . . see you in the morning glories?
